18 Americans Hurt in Saigon Terror Bombing

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A terrorist's bomb demolished a restaurant at the Saigon airport today, wounding 18 Americans and at least four Vietnamese.

One American Air Force officer was badly wounded. He was sitting outside the restaurant in a bus when concrete fragments smashed into it.

The other injured Americans were 11 U.S. airmen, three Army men and three civilians. First reports indicated they were in the area of the restaurant, not in the building, and were only slightly wounded.

The explosion virtually leveled the Air Viet Nam restaurant situated a few buildings from hangars containing U.S. Air Force jets.

A few minutes before the explosion an Australian air force plane had arrived from Singapore with flood relief supplies for central Viet Nam.

An armada of 115 U.S. helicopters was landing at the airport as the explosion took place. They had been engaged in the biggest airlift of the Vietnamese war, carrying troops into Communist territory north of Saigon.

Demolition experts said the bomb was of a plastic type and probably weighed about 45 pounds.

It had been placed above a concrete beam inside the restaurant. A similar bombing in the Caravelle Hotel in downtown Saigon last August smashed through 21 rooms.

Four Vietnamese were dragged bleeding from the debris of the restaurant.

Police arrested four boys between the ages of 15 and 20 for questioning.

At least a dozen U.S. jets were parked in the vicinity of the blast, but they were not damaged.

Only the roof frame of the wooden and concrete restaurant was left standing. Tables and chairs were blown through a wall into a high fence separating the restaurant from the entrance to the civilian air terminal.

A.G. Lancione Beats Sweeney For Dem Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Belmont attorney A. G. Lancione, who has represented Belmont County in the legislature since 1947, again will be House Democratic minority leader when he begins his 10th term in January.

Lancione was chosen, 34-28, Tuesday in a closed caucus of House Democrats preparing for the regular session which starts Jan. 4. His opponent came from Cleveland attorney Michael A. Sweeney, who will be starting his fifth term.

Known as "A. G." to those around him, Lancione became minority floor leader two years ago with a 25-24 caucus victory over James J. McGettrick, who later resigned to become Cuyahoga County sheriff.

Democrats will have 20 more seats in the House in 1965 as a result of the Nov. 3 election, but Republicans still will have a 75-62 edge.

At Lancione's request, members unanimously re-named Rep. Richard M. Christiansen, Mansfield attorney, as minority whip, a post once held by Lancione.

Jury Verdict Breaks All Records Here

$25,000 Is Awarded In Suit Presented By Local Attorneys

The largest jury verdict in the history of Pickaway County Common Pleas Court was awarded here yesterday afternoon.

A panel of 12 jurors returned a verdict of $25,000 in favor of Thomas Griffey, 17, Watt St. The case centered on an alleged permanent leg injury suffered in an accident about 2½ years ago. Testimony was presented to the jury on behalf of Griffey by Robert H. and Roy H. Huffer Jr., local attorneys.

Defendants of the civil suit were Harold G. and Paul Marshall and Kenneth Majors. They were represented by the Columbus firm of Vorys, Sater, Seymour and Pease, with Emmitt L. Crist acting as local counsel.

The record-breaking verdict was delivered by the jury after two days of court action. The original prayer of the suit was for $150,000. According to court records, there was no doubt as to the negligence of the defendants—"the only job for the jury was to set the amount of damages."

THE Griffey youth suffered the leg injury while riding his bicycle on July 19, 1962. A truck driven by Majors, an employee of the Marshall implement

President Throws Party To Surprise Lady Bird

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson mixed sentiment and fun in a surprise dinner for his wife on their 30th wedding anniversary.

The President, with the aid of White House staff members, planned the celebration himself — inviting 20 guests to dinner Tuesday night, choosing the menu and planning the anniversary cake.

The guests were personal friends of the First Family. The Johnsons' daughters, Lynda, 20, and Luci, 17, brought their dates to help their parents celebrate.

The Johnsons were married Nov. 17, 1934, in St. Marks Episcopal Church in San Antonio, Tex., when he was a secretary to a Texas congressman.

One of the gifts the President had for his wife was arrangements for a trip for her. Where or when, the White House would not say. After the campaign, Mrs. Johnson had said she wanted to go away on a trip for a few days and "walk under the sky."

In fun, the President also gave Mrs. Johnson a picture of "Gunsmoke" star Marshal Matt Dillon, whom the First Lady likes to watch on television on Saturday night.

Johnson inscribed the picture, "To Lady Bird and my Saturday night competition."

The White House did not disclose what Mrs. Johnson had given her husband to mark the day.

The cake was a big white frosted sponge cake of three layers with lemon filling, decorated with yellow roses, white

U.S. Jet Plane Downed in Laos

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S. F100 jet fighter plane which was escorting a reconnaissance plane over Laos has been shot down. Rescue operations for the pilot are under way, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced today.

The fighter was one of two aircraft escorting a RF101 photo reconnaissance plane in operations similar to those begun last summer at the request of the Laotian government to detect infiltration of North Vietnamese personnel and equipment into Laos.

McNamara told a news conference that the incident occurred about midnight, EST, in the "panhandle" part of Laos in the south central section.

One of the two escorting jets was hit by gunfire from the ground.

McNamara said the escort aircraft then opened fire on the installation from which the gunfire came.

Referring to the reconnaissance flights which started last May, McNamara said "these missions will continue as long as required."

Two planes had been lost previously on the reconnaissance missions.

In answer to a question, McNamara said there is some evidence that Red Vietnamese infiltration activity has increased with the advance of the dry season in Laos.

McNamara said he had no further details, including information on whether the pilot of the downed plane had been rescued, because he had received the preliminary information only a few minutes before he came to the news conference.

Labor Trouble Closes Plant

Experiment Ends In West Virginia

WILLIAMSON, W. Va. (AP) — A woodworking plant in a West Virginia poverty pocket—a model experiment of the Area Redevelopment Administration—will be closed because of continued labor problems.

Directors of the National Seating & Dimension Co., opened two years ago using ex-coal miners to turn out furniture parts, said the firm will close Friday. Company officials blamed labor strife and the expensive retraining of unemployed miners.

At the peak of production the factory's work force numbered 126. It had dropped to 75 in recent months. Company officials said some contracts were canceled when production dwindled because of strikes.

The plant is at nearby Varney in the state's southwestern section, an area of high unemployment since coal mine shutdowns began several years ago.

It was ARA's first industrial redevelopment endeavor in the nation.

The ARA and the Small Business Administration loaned the firm $860,000 and the West Virginia Industrial Development Authority supported it with an $87,150 loan. About $120,000 in stock was sold to set the firm in motion.

The board of directors, in announcing the shutdown Tuesday, said funds on hand would pay off most of the lumber suppliers. It did not disclose plans for repaying the loans.

No comment by the United Mine Workers, which represents the workers, was available.

New Project Completion Due in 1965

Additional Employees Eyed for Production Of Alkyd Resins

Officials of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. today announced that their central resins plant here will be expanded to provide facilities for the production of alkyd resins used in the manufacture of paints.

The new wing will house 30,000 square feet of floor space. It will be slightly larger than the original manufacturing and warehouse building, according to Robert A. Wavering, Circleville plant manager. The local facilities are part of PPG's Coatings and Resins Division.

This marks the second major expansion at the Circleville plant since the original unit went into production during 1963. Wavering said contracts for construction of the new unit have been let. The new facility is scheduled for completion by the end of 1965.

According to the Circleville manager, about 10 additional employees will be added when the new unit goes into operation. The present work force numbers about 31.

GENERAL location of the new wing will be northward from the present manufacturing building.

Alkyd resins are used extensively in both interior and exterior consumer paints and in certain industrial finishes made by PPG. When the new unit is completed next year, volume shipments will be made by tank car or tank truck to various plants of the Coatings and Resins Division.

Circleville production will supplement alkyd resin production now available at other plants, according to Wavering.

Resin lines now in production at the central resins plant include Duracron and Duracryl, both developed by

Judge Bans Beatle Look

DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP) — Preston H. Hood, a Defiance College student, appeared in Municipal Court with a "beatle" haircut.

Municipal Judge Robert R. Brown ordered Hood to get his hair cut before facing a disorderly conduct charge.

Hood questioned whether it was right for Brown to judge a man by his hair and Brown replied:

"It is as long as I control this court."

He told the youth if he didn't get a hair cut he would face a contempt charge in addition to the disorderly conduct charge, growing out of a fracas at the college.

When the youth returned with his hair cut, Brown fined him $25 on the disorderly conduct charge—and congratulated him on his haircut.

Rhodes Opens Final Stretch Of Innerbelt

77 Miles of I-71 Set for Opening Tomorrow Morning

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The $85-million Columbus innerbelt expressway system became a reality today with opening of the final link around the downtown area.

Gov. James A. Rhodes, assisted by city, state and federal officials, cut a ribbon opening the $10.7 million final link of the Parsons Expressway and Fulton Expressway.

Rhodes, in brief remarks, said the highways are not just to take care of Sunday drivers, but to permit industry to deliver products faster. "Highways help create jobs," he said.

John W. Shocknessy, the Interstate 71 expediter, said completion of the expressways was made possible by the cooperation of the federal government, the State of Ohio and the City of Columbus. He called the expressways an example of business and labor working together.

A ribbon also was cut marking the opening of the outerbelt between Interstate 71 and U.S. 23 south of Columbus.

The ceremony was in advance of the opening Thursday of 77 miles of Interstate 71 from Columbus south to Cincinnati. Ribbons will be cut between 8 a.m. and 11 a.m. at four spots, at Harrisburg south of Columbus, at the intersection of Interstate 71 and U. S. 68 near Wilmington, at the Little Miami bridge southeast of Lebanon and where Interstate 71 joins the Circle Freeway on the outskirts of Cincinnati.

Seventeen projects were involved in construction of the section of Interstate 71 being opened and the cost totaled $56,268,000. The work included 87 bridges.

Jury Verdict

According to the petition, as the vehicle passed the Griffey youth on the highway, a bolt broke releasing the cutter bar of the mower which struck Griffey on the left leg below the knee.

It was alleged that Griffey, 15 at the time of the accident, suffered a compound fracture and a severed nerve which left him with the permanent injury. Huffer's presentation to the jury included the youth's background in school, both academic and athletic. He pointed out that the injury had deprived the teen-ager of full participation in athletics since the accident. The handicap would also impair his "earning abilities for the rest of his life," the plaintiff's counsel said.

Yesterday's verdict broke a previous record set here several years ago by a jury that returned a verdict of $15,000 in a damages suit.

According to Huffer, the money awarded the Griffey youth will be placed in a trust fund until he is 21.

Jurors deliberated for nearly an hour before returning to the courtroom at 2:45 p. m. with their $25,000 verdict for the plaintiff. Common Pleas Judge William Ammer presided.

Serving on the jury were Weaver Wolfe, Mary C. Hay-Kenneth Black, Bert Ratcliff, Roberta Webb, Eileen Ward, Emmitt Morgan, Grace Ann Hulse, Everett Peters, Ronald Harrison, Betty Dresbach and Eldon J. Long.

Steel Prices Inch Up

The steel industry is moving toward a general increase on its products. Several major producers, led by U. S. Steel, have raised prices selectively and the reaction will determine whether they mark up the larger tonnage items.

Leaders in the industry, in fact, started months ago to hint of higher prices. Now even Inland Steel has joined the parade. This company resisted the 1962 bid for an across-the-board increase that was blocked by President Kennedy.

The industry has not had a major advance since 1958. And while profits are rising, the industry's rate of return on its investment is below the average for other manufacturing. Furthermore, steel profits have to support record high expenditures for modernization of plants and machines.

Then there's the prospect of substantial demands for higher wages and increased fringe benefits the union is certain to demand at next spring's bargaining table. The union, following the example of the auto workers, has already announced it will seek contract improvements that would breach the guidelines laid down by the White House.

Despite the record high settlements the auto union won, auto makers have indicated no immediate increase in prices of cars will be made. But the auto industry is lush. Other industries, including steel, cannot afford similar labor cost increases without raising the prices of their products.

Office Thieves Invade Desk

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Office thievery is a growing problem today.

Big industries steal their big and small secrets from each other. Spies in business may make more money than spies in government. But most office thieves merely are novelty larcenists — junk takers.

My desk has been invaded by them too often, and I feel they are an ordeal and an unnecessary nuisance.

Most people keep immaculately clean desks. They live as if, when they quit their desks on any day, they had no reason to come back to them tomorrow. If they died overnight, the newcomer who took their place the next morning would face a mirror newness.

I live another way. I believe a clean desk is the sign of a frightened mind.

Most people lock their desks. I don't. I leave my desk unlocked and piled daily higher with a clutter of wistfulness, postponed decisions and unanswered letters.

This is why it puzzles me that I am more often a victim of office thievery than those who keep neat, locked desks.

Experience has convinced me that office thieves either use my desk for practice, or that, mistaking availability for value, they take what is there and hope it may be useful later. Certainly I don't cuddle the secret of how to make cheaper steel or a protein-enriched cola drink.

I hate to think that an international ring of office espionage artists is employing my desk for a training ground, but how else can I explain that—

My letters from admiring old ladies have been ruthlessly opened, and peered into.

So have been the follow-up letters from their husbands saying, "No matter what my wife wrote you, if you try to sell her anything, I'll tell you right now that I'll not be financially responsible."

So have been my invitations to cocktail parties to celebrate a new tractor, or to judge the vocal excellence of a troupe of visiting canaries.

Careless as I am, I still resent the fact that any office thief should purloin from my desk such as the following:

My unmailed encouraging note to Gen. Custer, before the Battle of the Little Big Horn in 1876, "just keep on herding those Indians, George, and you'll be back in Washington as Army chief of staff."

A wry postcard from William Jennings Bryan following his defeat for the presidency in 1908, after earlier losing in 1896 and 1900, "Well, you can't win them all, kid!"

The telegram I sent to a man named Ford: "If you ask my advice, Henry, don't put your trust in a four-wheeled vehicle just because it wears out more tires. The big future is in a three-wheeled car."

And the advice I gave to Tom Edison: "What's the use of putting a light inside a closed glass bulb — if it makes it just that much harder to reach with a match?"

The trouble with an office thief is that he usually steals something that isn't at all important to him but may be to the one he preys upon.

There isn't much glory in robbing a city dump, and a guy who holds up a dump instead of a bank shows himself to be a pitiful amateur — and so do most office thieves.

An 11-man expedition is sailing from Australia to Antarctica where they hope to climb hitherto unscathed Big Ben Peak. Just the very idea of such an enterprise gives us the shivers.

Big Ben is on Heard Island, which is said to have the world's worst weather. This makes trying to climb the peak hardly a spectator sport.

Big Ben is 9,005 feet high. That is either an awfully big rock or the world's largest ice cube.

Changing to a pleasanter subject, we note that a new model steam shovel is on display at a London public works exhibition. The cab is equipped with a radio, cigarette lighter, armchair seats and a lunch tray. What? — no java — maker for the inevitable coffee break?

HERMAN MASIN recalls one All-American fullback who was so dumb he won three letters before he could write one. He could do everything with a ball but autograph it.

Reporting late for practice one day, he was ordered by the coach to run a lap around the entire field as penance. An hour later the coach caught him still running. "What are you doing?" asked the amazed coach. "Coach," puffed the exhausted All-American, "I just lost count."

Shortly before his own death, Author Ben Hecht wrote a book about departed cronies he remembered best: famous individualists like H. L. Mencken, Charles MacArthur, and Gene Fowler. "There's one thing," wrote Hecht, "that keeps surprising you about stormy old friends after they die: their silence. For a while an echo stays in your ear. You hear a laugh, a revealing phrase or two, a certain quality of enunciation. Then—nothing. Another death takes place: VOICES."

Mrs. J. B. Stevenson, Route 2, was re-elected chairman of the Pickaway County Farm Bureau Women's Committee.

Col. John R. Clifton, a native of New Holland, was one of the principal speakers at the dedication of Kawaiaha Harbor in Hawaii.

A total of 62 pints of blood were collected by the Red Cross Bloodmobile on its final visit to Circleville for the year.

TEN YEARS AGO
A box social highlighted the meeting of the Trailmakers class of the Calvary EUB Church.

It was announced by the telephone company that Circleville policemen patrolling the downtown area would have to pay 10 cents for each call they Pickaway County Commissioners approved the proposed location for a Ground Observer Corps office in the sheriff's department.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
The Pickaway County Budget Commission completed its sessions on establishing real estate taxation rates for all districts in the county.

Miss Elizabeth Reber was in charge of the group of Pickaway County youth who were to participate in the 1,000 voice choir at the annual Ohio Farm Bureau Federation Meeting.

Q. For the past two years I have had a cricket-like noise in both ears. The sound varies in intensity but never ceases. Would some type of surgery help this condition?

A. Head noise (tinnitus) is a very disturbing condition for which there is usually no successful treatment. The ringing or buzzing seems to be aggravated under emotional stress and general nervous tension. Fortunately, it often disappears with the passage of time. Meanwhile, the person bothered by head noises might try sleeping with the head slightly elevated or utilize a masking noise (such as that provided by a radio or fan) if the problem is severe enough to disturb sleep.

PRENATAL CAPSULES

Q. Is it possible to take too many calcium, protein and prenatal capsules during pregnancy? I do not drink milk.

A. Whether you do or do not drink milk it would be possible to over-dose with prenatal products. About-to-be mothers too frequently take all sorts of dietary "supplements" just to be sure junior isn't being neglected. Actually, the expectant mother would do well to take only those drugs prescribed by the physician.

Delinquency in Russia

By John Chamberlain

So the Soviets lost the Olympics, in the matter of old medals at any rate. They had predicted as much well in advance, blaming it in their sports magazines on "bourgeois emulation" by some of their athletes who had allegedly picked up bad habits abroad. This does not explain, of course, how or why the bourgeois United States managed to outperform the Soviets at Tokyo. Maybe the Soviet athletes needed more bourgeois influence, not less.

If the Soviet athletes seem to have been going soft, it could be because of a slackening of moral tone that has afflicted the whole range of Russian society. Those self-exiled Russian journalists who keep tabs on the contents of Soviet publications for the Institute for the Study of the USSR in Munich have recently been going to town on the subject of Soviet juvenile delinquency. Curiously, just about every manifestation of youthful hooliganism in England and the United States can be matched with something that has happened in Russia.

In New York City, Park Commissioner Newbold Morris has been criticized for allowing the parks to become the haunts of muggers and pervers. It is never explained how Mr. Morris is to police the parks without a bigger budget being allotted to the work. It might be some consolation to the Park Commissioner to read a report in the Moscow newspaper Izvestia about a municipal park in the Soviet city of Ural'sk where, "as soon as it begins to grow dark, people hurriedly leave the green paths." Izvestia goes on to say that young hooligans have burned or disfigured all the decorations in the park.

Not so long ago a bunch of gilded "upper class" youths wrecked a house on Long Island at the tag end of a party. Was this a manifestation of "bourgeois Rotenness"? Maybe so, but the Russian Publication, Kimso-molskaya Pravda, complains that even children from the well-to-do levels of Soviet society are going in for what they call the "sweet life", which is defined as "not working anywhere, dressing in the modern way, drinking insanely, and carousing."

Yunost, another Russian periodical, writes about the behavior of the group of young people who were on holiday in a guest home. The Yunost reporter was "shown the broken glass... the broken benches, the door which had been torn from its hinges; holes were gaping in some of the plastic snow-screens on the balconies... an awful spectacle created by an exulting boor, I thought... but no. I was told it might... have been done by rather proper boys, 'intellectuals', with whom it is possible to talk about literature... we naive people... tell them 'it is unbecoming for young people' and these rascals, to be disagreeable, would lower their eyes, and growl through their teeth, 'You want a punch?' A predominantly Jewish neighborhood in Brooklyn, despairing of getting sufficient police protection against thugs and rapists, organizes its own watchdog groups. Whereupon it is criticized for taking the law into its own hands and reverting to vigilante practices that had been abused in the nineteenth century. But in Soviet Russia they have had to create special brigades of "people's militia", the druzhniks, to keep a watch on criminals and delinquents.

The druzhniks have been called for a better presentation of Soviet crime statistics in order to justify the participation of of the community in the war against a steadily increasing amount of hooliganism. This call for statistical truth has been picked up in the Soviet press. Izvestiye says that the police "fear statistics more than anything else", adding some information about cases "where the police put off arresting dangerous criminals, where mild sentences are handed down for serious crimes."

You think things are deplorable during spring vacation week at Fort Lauderdale, Florida, or at the Newport, Rhode Island, jazz festival, or in the younger drinking set in Darien, Connecticut? Well don't blame it on "bourgeois corruption." It's just the same in Russia, where recent issues of Moloday Kommunist have been filled with major articles on juvenile crime, alcoholism, and the moral corruption of minors.

Three Members Named

Panel Will Hear Sewer Objections

A resolution appointing a three-member equalization board to hear objections to tentative assessments for construction of the Circleville North Storm Sewer headed legislative business last night in City Council.

Named to the board as disinterested freeholders were Winship Story, Edgar Webb and Robert Wilson. Approximately 73 objections have been filed by property owners concerning the storm sewer proposal.

The resolution also set a meeting date for the board. The first hearing will be 7 p. m. Jan. 13, 1965 in Council Chambers.

An initial equalization board appointed by council to hear objections to the controversial sewer project resigned without holding hearings. The lawmakers have expressed hope the new panel will be able to get the proposal under way again.

THE general opinion has been that the project is urgently needed. However, the problem ever since the proposal was authorized in 1963 has been "who will pay for it on the basis of benefits derived."

A second resolution approved by the solons centered on the proper establishment of a detour once the State Highway Department commences its improvement work on E. Main St. from Mingo St. to the city limits. The measure calls for the city to maintain the traffic flow change, with the state providing the necessary markers.

Present indications are the project will not get under way until spring. However, Safety Director Miller Fissell informed council a detour route has been selected and will be set up when the improvement starts.

In other legislative matters, the city fathers passed five appropriation ordinances. Approved were:

The appropriation of $1,300 to the street fund for the maintenance and repair of equipment.

The appropriation of $750 from the sewer rental fund to cover overtime and extra labor pay for the City Sewage Department for this year.

The appropriation of $500 for the payment of legal advertising during 1964.

The appropriation of $325 for the purchase of clerical supplies for Circleville Municipal Court.

The appropriation of $100 for the purchase of supplies for the police department.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mark Twain used to tell a story about a trainload of state legislators who were going on a picnic.

The train was held up by bandits. Having relieved the bandits of their valuables, the legislators proceeded to their picnic.

This, of course, is not an accurate description of modern state legislators. For one thing, they lack the old-time vigor.

But many of them are putting up quite a fight — a fight they cannot possibly win — a fight to preserve "rotten boroughs."

The term rotten borough derives from British parliamentary history. The big dictionary defines a rotten borough thus: "An election district that has many fewer inhabitants than other election districts with the same voting power."

This exactly describes the situation now prevailing in most states of the Union. There has been a tremendous growth in the population of cities and suburbs, especially the latter, but the outnumbered rural folks still control — or at least exercise a veto power — in most state legislatures.

In some cases the state constitutions called for mandatory reapportionment after each census but legislators blithely ignored this requirement, in some cases for as long as 60 years.

A lawyer from one of those states requested more time from the Supreme Court.

"How long do we have to wait?" asked Chief Justice Earl Warren, with the air of a man who is tired of waiting.

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY FOR JAMES MARLOW

Now the law of the land — as pronounced by the Supreme Court — is "one man, one vote" — that is, legislative districts have to be equal in population, as nearly as practicable.

So there is nationwide ferment, special sessions of legislatures, with federal courts breathing down their necks. The idea of the controlling rural folks is to reapportion in such a way as to give up as little power as possible.

New Jersey has come up with a plan — not quite new because it was tried in New Mexico but promptly slapped down as a violation of the state constitution. One aim of this plan is not to retire any legislator to private life.

It provides for weighted voting in the state Senate, that is the senator from populous Essex County would have 19 votes, as against one for the senator from Cape May County.

The issue is intertwined with partisan politics. Example: In the Goldwater debacle, Democrats won control of the New York Legislature from the Republicans.

Now Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is planning to call a special session of the legislature soon to reapportion the state before the Democrats get a crack at it in 1965.

The Democrats are hollering bloody murder. It makes a heap of difference who gets to do the redistricting, because both parties have experts in gerrymandering — the art of drawing boundaries in such a way as to put the opposition behind the eight ball.

Over much of the country, this kind of footwork is going on. A truly fundamental political revolution is under way, with incalculable effects on the American system.

Governor Reminds Of Drinking Ban

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes reminded state employees as the long holiday season approached that drinking on state property is prohibited.

He also cited a ban preventing state employees or their superiors from accepting gifts "in any form whatsoever."

Rhodes asked department heads to require strict observance of the regulations and urged those doing business with the state to observe the prohibitions.

Various New Items for Home Sewing

By ELEANOR ROSS

New fashions, fabrics and ideas, plus a variety of wonderful sewing aid gadgets, give the cue to the vast army of home sewing enthusiasts.

Stretch fabrics are increasingly important, especially for children's clothes, informal sportswear and casual things.

A visit to the notions department of any store is a revelation in the many smart gadgets designed to make creative sewing not only easy but downright pleasant.

To obtain best results in sewing stretch fabrics, use nylon thread advise leading thread mills. It will "give" with the fabric. Then, all that is needed is care not to stretch the fabric while cutting, sewing and pressing.

Scissors and shears are vitally important to the home seamstress. In the stores is a new version of pinking shears. The improvement is a ball bearing pivot which permits maximum ease and efficiency in cutting.

The pressing of seams, darts and other areas of a garment as it is being constructed is another major job in sewing.

Just introduced is a press cloth that's a double job — one side muslin, the other wool. The extra thickness provides for ironing over zippers, buttonholes, etc., and is especially good for top pressing because the muslin side retains the moisture while the other side redistributes the steam evenly.

Among other "tools of the trade" now or soon available at notions counters are the new backings for self-covered belts and buckles.

These backings, available in many widths, are washable, cleanable and non-crushable. One series is neutral, which makes it the ideal backing for

Mrs. Dick Hosts Five Points WCTU

Mrs. Harry A. Dick recently entertained members of the Five Points WCTU. Mrs. Francis Furniss, president, opened the meeting.

Her theme was "Choose the Good Path, Father". Mrs. Ernest Sheets read the Scripture followed by meditation and prayer. Roll call was answered by ten members and one visitor, Mrs. Marguerite Snyder, Columbus.

Mrs. Loring Stoer read "Organized for Protection" and Mrs. Dick reviewed the growth of the National WCTU. Mrs. Clark McCafferty read "Growing Up Together in the WCTU" and Mrs. Ned Long read the "Awesome Mind." Miss Laura Long and Mrs. Lloyd Neff also presented readings. A discussion followed.

A card of cheer was sent to Miss Mary L. Harpster and the group voted to exchange Christmas gifts at the next meeting. Several pairs of glasses were brought to be sent to the Eyes for the Needy. Plans were made to fix plates of fruit and cookies for the aged at the county home for Thanksgiving.

The meeting closed with the benediction and refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Clark McCafferty.

Mrs. Loring Stoer will be hostess for the Dec. 9 meeting.

Group Meets For Luncheon

Old Trails Chapter, Daughters of the American Colonists met for luncheon at the Holiday Inn, Columbus.

Members from this area are Mrs. Clarence McAbee, Mrs. Charles May, Mrs. W. Emerson Downing, Mrs. W. L. Mack, Mrs. T. L. Cromley, Mrs. Hewitt Cromley and Mrs. Martin Cromley.

Mrs. E. James Rapp, regent, welcomed members and guests. The pledge of allegiance was given and all joined in singing the national anthem and "God Bless America".

Mrs. Scott Reynolds gave the national defense report. Plans were announced for the state conference which the group will host at the Neil House in March.

Mrs. George Siner was guest speaker. She discussed volunteer services for veterans at the Chillicothe Hospital and noted that 30 per cent of them are World War I veterans, 55 per cent World War II and 10 per cent peace time veterans, some Koreans, and a few Spanish Americans. Many do not know if they have living relatives and some could go home if they had a place to go. It is required that only blood relatives can secure their release. Some are given work in the surrounding community and return to the hospital at night.

The role of the volunteer workers, she explained, is not so much what they do for the veterans, but what they do with them. Volunteers frequently accompany the men to church in the chapel. There is a new therapy building and the swimming pool is of value to many who have been crippled. Women are needed to do mending at the hospital and also special work during the Christmas season. Santa Claus visits all sections of the hospital on Christmas eve with gifts for all patients.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren Give Him an Ultimatum

DEAR ABBY: How long is a girl supposed to wait for a man to marry her? I've been going with him for 16 years. I am 46, have been married, no children. He's 58, has never been married, owns his own business, lives in style and likes to travel (alone). At first his excuse was that he had to support his mother. That may have been true 16 years ago, but today she needs his "support" like I need a hole in my head. He's made some shrewd investments for her (she owns two luxury apartment buildings) and her income is over $35,000 a year. (I know, I work for him.)

In private he tells me he "loves" me. In public he refers to our relationship as "pals" or "buddies." I'm sure he doesn't have anybody else in town, anyway, and I certainly don't have another man and don't want one. How do I get him to marry me?

ON ICE 16 YEARS
DEAR ON ICE: No preacher would marry a woman to a man with a gun in his ribs. Your friend is surely not waiting for you to propose, so give him the "now or never" ultimatum. But be prepared for a negative reply.

DEAR ABBY: The letter from Mrs. S. regarding her disfigured daughter brought back memories of an incident which occurred when I was in the fourth grade. As I look back now, I realize how much wisdom and understanding our teacher showed. She chose the most popular boy in the class—one whom all the other boys looked up to—and she told him privately, "Tomorrow we are going to have a new boy in class. He stutters badly. The best way to overcome stuttering is to read aloud. If you children laugh at him, or make fun of him when he stutters, it will make his stuttering worse. If you show no signs of noticing it, you will help him tremendously. It is up to you children. I am depending on you. Spread the word to every boy in the class."

I was the girl chosen to get the word to all the girls. As I recall not one person in the class ever violated the trust the teacher placed in us. Needless to say, the new boy improved.

DEAR ABBY: Regarding the woman whose daughter had been badly disfigured in an accident and was fearful of returning to school while in dire need of plastic surgery:

My neighbor had a son who had a dental problem and he was worried about going back to school wearing the necessary brace-type appliance on his head. His teacher had him get up before the class and explain what it was all about. There was never one bit of ridicule or rudeness from the children once they understood the problem.

If that mother would go to school and speak to the class and explain what had happened to her daughter and how they hoped to correct it in the future, I'm sure she would find the children very sympathetic and extremely kind to the child. Young people are amazingly cooperative when put to the test.

THELMA J.

DEAR ABBY: I know it's bad psychology to keep after my teen-age daughter to stand up straight, but her lovely figure is spoiled by the way she stands. She either has one hip sticking out, or one toe turned in, or she stands with her shoulders stooped and her stomach sticking out. I hate myself for constantly criticizing her in front of others, but how else can I get her to pay some attention to her posture and improve it?

ON EDGE

DEAR ON: Don't ever criticize your teen-aged daughter in the presence of others. Humiliation never improved anyone. Explain how important good posture is to the impression one creates. Work out a few signals between yourselves as a silent reminder to improve her posture. (Smooth your hair, or touch your left eyebrow.) She'll appreciate your consideration and you'll get your point across painlessly.

Annette Ready To Join Marrying Mousketeers

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Oh those marrying Mousketeers! Cheryl (Holdridge) became the bride of sportsman-heir Lance Reventlow this month. Now Annette (Funicello) will wed her manager, Jack Gilardi, Jan. 9.

What's more, Annette reports that all of the onetime performers of the Mickey Mouse Club are now married — "all except Cubby and Karen, the two little ones."

Annette, the most successful alumna of the club and the only one remaining under contract to Disney Studios, was busy this week with final details for the wedding — and doing her Christmas shopping as well. Why now?

"Because I'll be starting another beach picture, 'Beach Blanket Bingo,'" she explained. "I won't finish it until nine days before the wedding. But nearly everything is set now. I've picked out the flowers for the church — St. Cyril's in Encino. We'll have 700 people there."

"I've just about completed the menu and decorations for the reception that's no small matter, because we're having 550 for a sit-down dinner in the grand ballroom of the Beverly Hilton."

"We wanted a smaller wedding, but you know how those things go. It just sort of got out of hand."

The bridegroom is executive for a talent agency firm, General Artists Corp., and one of his clients has been Annette. Gilardi is 33.

"I first met him," she recalled, "when he was managing Frankie Avalon. I was 14 and dating Frankie at the time, but I had a big crush on Jack. To him, of course, I was just a little girl."

Six months ago Jack and Annette began dating exclusively. He will continue as her agent after their marriage.

Annette's career has continued to flourish with her coming of age — she's 22. She remains under contract to Disney's for two films a year and for recordings. She makes guest appearances on television; She'll be with Bob Hope on NBC Friday night. She has a contract for two films per year with American International, producers of the successful "Beach Party" epics.

STAR

Star Grange met in the Monroe School Auditorium with Worthy Master Lee Kern presiding over the business session.

Obligations of the third and fourth degrees were given to Patricia Schleich and Bruce Reid and a contribution was given to the County Youth Installation Team for installing officers last month.

A special collection was taken to be sent to UNICEF.

The program, "Fun and Fellowship" under the direction of Mrs. Clyde Michel, lecturer, opened with a reading, "The Heck It Does" by Mrs. Herman Porter. Carroll Reid read "Hunting Tips" and a style show was held with Mrs. Clarence Finch displaying a sack dress; Mrs. Wilbur Beathard wore a nylon dress; Mrs. Paul Moore a tea dress; Mrs. William Finch wore a bridal dress; Mrs. Dwight Reid wore a box suit dress; Miss Patricia Schleich gave a monologue on "What You Would Say When Applying for a Job," and Bruce Reid pantomimed "How To Play Some Instrument You Don't Know."

The largest grange family was honored, that of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Long. Snapshots of childhood were passed around and the others were to guess whose family it was. A tableau, "Freedom" in observance of Armistice Day, was given under the direction of Mrs. Herman Porter with Harold Funniss, Robert Morgan, Flem Blair and Dwight Reid taking part.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Reid, Mr. and Mrs. Herschell Long and daughter, Florence, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Long and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morgan.

U.S. Prelates Enter Vatican Spotlight

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Roman Catholic bishops of the United States came into their own at the almost-finished third session of the Vatican Ecumenical Council, leading the debate on several major topics and reflecting traditional American values.

American prelates have spoken out in St. Peter's Basilica more than 30 times since September to urge strong council stands on such matters as religious liberty; racial equality; forthright clearance of Jews from any special blame in the Crucifixion; church-state separation; relieving world hunger; and the right of governments to have defensive nuclear arms.

The five cardinals and 285 archbishops and bishops of the United States make up the second largest national hierarchy in Roman Catholicism, exceeded only by Italy's 430 prelates. They represent 44 million Catholics, almost equal to the entire population of Italy.

At the initial council session in 1962 they were largely listeners and followers. Critics suggested they might go down in history as "the silent church" if they remained on the sidelines.

At the second session in 1963 they began to emerge with self-confidence and sign up on the speaking list to present their viewpoints, often in the name of many or all of the U.S. bishops. At this current third session they moved into the spotlight.

Cardinals Richard Cushing of Boston, Albert Meyer of Chicago and Joseph Ritter of St. Louis all arose Sept. 23 to voice a plea for freedom of conscience in every man in following the religion he believes.

For Cardinal Cushing it was a rare appearance before the council's microphones.

"The church must become the champion of religious freedom," the 69-year-old cardinal insisted in his booming Latin with Bostonian overtones. He won a burst of applause despite council rules against it.

Cardinal Meyer said "nothing else done at the council will have much importance" if the declaration on religious freedom of conscience failed to win approval. Cardinal Ritter stressed "the interior, natural, native right" of every person to his religious beliefs.

Cardinal Cushing created an even bigger stir in the council five days later. Again opposing the outlook of conservatives, largely from Italy and Spain, he urged the council to put back into a declaration on Jews a deleted phrase that the Jewish people bear no special guilt for the Crucifixion.

"Far be it from us to set ourselves up as judges in the place of God," Cardinal Cushing declared as many prelates moved into the aisle from their seats for a better look at the fiery American in action.

Cardinals Ritter and Meyer also spoke again that day. Their stand, backed by Bishop John J. Wright of Pittsburgh, was endorsed by several European and Canadian prelates.

Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York arrived in Rome late, after a bout of sickness. He spoke Oct. 20 during debate on the council's modern world problems schema, and asked that the document not be weakened.

On Nov. 17, the New York cardinal urged the council to declare itself in favor of public funds for religious schools, saying, "Justice and equity demand that a proper portion" of public funds be given to religious schools.

The American bishops were silent during council debate of the church's position on birth control and marital love, where several Europeans and the Montreal Cardinal Paul Emile Legier pressed for a re-examination of traditional church restrictions.

The Americans pressed for all-out condemnation of racial discrimination when the modern world schema arrived at a discussion of human dignity.

Archbishop O'Boyle of Washington was applauded in the council hall when he said Oct. 28 in the name of the almost 200 U.S. bishops then in Rome: "Discrimination is not a sociological problem but a moral problem, a cancerous evil."

Bishop Andrew Grutka of Gary, Ind., said equal opportunity was essential in all of man's economic and social life. "Just as no one looks for beauty in a garbage dump, no one can expect to find virtue in a slum," he said.

Montana Copper Mines Recruit from Appalachia

WASHINGTON (AP) — It isn't easy for families to pull up stakes, but to combat unemployment the government is helping recruit hundreds of jobless Appalachian coal miners for the Montana copper mines. So far, officials are pleased with the results.

Said a Montana Employment Service report recently: "Many of the new miners have already earned more in one month than they made in an entire year in a series of odd jobs back home."

But, the same report pointed out: "The story did not have a happy ending for all of the new arrivals. Some of them soon became lonely for the old familiar haunts and a few more disenchanted. Others just could not make the grade as hard-rock miners."

The story is being written jointly by federal and state employment services and two independent unions, the United Mine Workers of America and the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers.

The coal fields of Appalachia are among the most depressed areas of the nation. Employment has plummeted from about 450,000 in 1948 to 125,000 today, and with increasing automation there is little chance of reversing the trend.

What the federal government is doing is making these miners — many haven't worked in the fields in years — aware of the job opportunities in the Montana mines. The Labor Department emphasizes that the migration is strictly voluntary; no government pressure is applied.

In the past two years, miners have been recruited from Alabama, Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, West Virginia and Pennsylvania to work in Montana, where recent developments in open-pit mining of low-grade ore created a shortage of copper miners.

After training to adapt to copper mining, the men can make up to $30 a day — more than a fully employed miner in the coal fields.

A spokesman for the UMW said of his dwindling force: "They could not be taken back into the coal mines. We know that, the industry knows that, and the government knows that. There just isn't room for them."

PPG and now licensed to leading coatings, paint and plastic producers both here and abroad.

The plant also produces melamine and urea type resins which are used in combination with alkyds to produce a broad line of high quality finishes now being used by the automobile industry, in appliance applications and in general industrial finishes.

Earlier this year, the Circleville factory began production of Selectron polyester resins. Developed by PPG during World War II, these resins have been adapted to hundreds of consumer product lines.

Reinforced with glass fibers, the versatile Selectron can be fabricated into such products as fiber glass boats, translucent panels for awnings and various other uses.

EQUIPMENT for a polyvinyl acetate emulsion line is currently being installed at the factory. Production from this unit is expected by early 1965.

Polyvinyl acetate emulsions are used in the company's consumer product lines. They are the basic resins in first-quality emulsion Wallboard paints and in exterior finishes of the newer latex-based types.

The new Pittsburgh unit at Circleville, programmed as a three-shift operation, follows development of a superior polyvinyl acetate emulsion by PPG scientists, and successful pilot plant trials at the Coatings and Resins Division's Technical Center, Springdale, Pa.

PPG does not presently manufacture its own requirements of polyvinyl acetate emulsions.

The PPG expansion signals another phase of heavy industrial activity in the general vicinity south of here. A new Owens-Illinois shipping box plant is now under construction nearby and added facilities are still in progress at the Du Pont plant on the opposite side of Route 23.

Ground was broken for the initial PPG plant in late 1961 and production started in early 1963. A 50 per cent expansion of manufacturing facilities was announced a few months later.

Speedy Impala
PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — The top speed of an impala, a type of antelope found in South Africa, has been established at 35 m.p.h., says this country's Transvaal Provincial Division of Nature Conservation.

According to the division's latest newsletter, a nature conservation officer in a car recently followed an impala along a road. The impala was going full speed. For half a mile the impala was timed doing exactly 35 m.p.h.

Information Of Interest To Veterans

(Veterans and their dependents who may have any questions concerning any benefits from the Veterans Administration should bring their questions to James P. Shea, Pickaway County Veterans Service Officer. His office is located in the basement of the County Court House).

According to Pickaway County Veterans Service Officer, James P. Shea, the new insurance law, signed by President Johnson, will allow veterans with disabilities, both service connected and non-service connected, one year to pick up their National Service Life Insurance.

The law also provides, Shea said, for non-disabled veterans, who are carrying their National Service Life Insurance on a term plan, to change to what is called a modified life plan.

This new modified life plan, Shea continued, provides a lifetime level premium lower than other permanent plans. It avoids the periodic premium increases of term insurance. The face amount is reduced by one-half at age 65 when insurance needs usually decline. The amount reduced at that time can be replaced by the same amount of ordinary life insurance for an extra premium with no medical examination required.

To get back to the insurance for the disabled veteran, Shea said that the law here is rather complex. Among other things, insurance is offered to certain veterans who are uninsurable according to commercial standards. The premium rates on the new insurance will be designed to make the program completely self-supporting and will include administrative expenses. In addition, the Service Officer continued, the administrator is empowered to raise or lower the rates, according to experience, at intervals of not less than two years and this could add up to a rather expensive proposition for the non-service connected uninsurable veterans.

We have here, in this new law, Shea concluded, two completely different types of insurance. Regulations which apply to one do not apply to the other and since final details on the new law are not yet available, all we can do is work with what we have.

For further general information concerning the new insurance law, contact the Service Officer, in his office in the basement of the courthouse. Pamphlets are available showing the general information on the law.

Buffalo Bills Put Gilchrist On Waivers

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Controversial Cookie Gilchrist, the American Football League's leading rusher and 1962 Player of the Year, appeared headed for either the Oakland Raiders or the New York Jets today after being discarded by the Buffalo Bills.

The Bills, pace-setters in the Eastern Division and hoping to win their first AFL title, fired the $30,000 a year, 250-pound fullback by placing him on the waiver block for $100. They said they wouldn't withdraw the waivers either.

Thus Gilchrist was available for the $100 to the AFL club with the poorest record. The Boston Patriots and the Jets put in a claim. Houston, Denver and Kansas City, which had prior rights because of worse records this season, said they weren't interested in the 29-year-old fullback.

The Oakland Raiders said they would wait to see what the other clubs did. The Raiders, with a 2-7-1 record, could grab him unless Houston (2-8-0) and Denver (2-8-0) changed signals.

If the Raiders also pass, Cookie will go to the Jets.

Gilchrist, when he got the word of his axing, said he would like to play with either the Jets or Raiders.

"His only concern is himself and how much yardage he can gain," said Buffalo Coach Lou Saban.

"Certain incidents have taken place over the last six weeks which were uncalled for, in my opinion," added Saban. "I felt we had to go without him. The club is more important than the individual's gain."

Jackie Seeks Cash Crown

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — While Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus were studying the rolling contours of Oakbourne Country Club for their down-to-the-wire duel for the 1964 golfing money championship, a class reunion of sorts was going on in another foursome.

It was 1946 when Gardner Dickinson Jr. and Luca Barbatto, host pro for the $25,000 Cajun Classic Golf tournament, began playing golf for Louisiana State University.

They got together again Tuesday in a practice round for the Cajun Classic and briefly relived the days when their LSU golf team—which also included Jay Hebert, who like Gardner, is now one of the fixtures of the play-for-pay circuit—won two NCAA championships.

"That's been so long ago we'd like to forget what year it was," said Barbatto, whose older brother, Mike, was coach of the LSU squad in those days.

Mike Barbatto, now pro at a New Orleans country club, will also play in the Cajun Classic, which will have another brother act—Jay and Lionel Hebert, two regular members of the tour.

Only $319 separate Palmer and Nicklaus in official earnings on the PGA circuit this year and the 24-year-old Nicklaus hopes to overhaul Palmer in the money derby. Both have picked up more than $100,000 on the circuit this season — more than anybody has ever won in the past.

Defensive End For Cleveland Has Two Lives

Football Player Teaches School In Off Season

CLEVELAND (AP)—When he isn't teaching boys to stand tall and respect the other fellow, Paul Wiggin is busy knocking people down.

The dual role comes easy for Wiggin, a defensive end for the Cleveland Browns and school teacher in Palo Alto, Calif., during the off season.

Wiggin, who celebrates his 30th birthday today, came to the Browns in 1957, the year they lost the National Football League championship to Detroit, 59-14.

He thought about retirement a few years ago, then the Browns changed coaches. Blanton Collier showed confidence in the former All-American from Stanford by keeping only two defensive ends last season and again this year.

It wasn't always that way. Wiggin won the job in 1958 from Willie Davis, now a regular with the Green Bay Packers who oppose the Browns Sunday in Milwaukee.

Each year there was a new challenger, from Jim Marshall, Charley Hinton, Henry Jordan and others. Wiggin has held the job and played the last several weeks despite a sore back and a pair of gimpy legs. He's tall, but not heavy, for a defensive end at 6-foot-3, 228 pounds.

His most valued recognition as a pro has come from his teammates. Last summer a Lakewood group polled the Browns at their training camp in search of the top defensive player. The Browns picked Wiggin and he received a huge trophy.

"It's the finest thing that has happened to me in football," he said.

Olympic Star Joins Cassius

BOSTON (AP)—Cassius Clay expected some welcome company in the hernia surgery ward at Boston City Hospital today in the person of high jumper John Thomas.

Thomas, 23, who won a silver medal in the high jump at the Olympics in Tokyo, was to be operated on for a hernia which has bothered him since before the Olympics.

Thomas put off surgery to be sure he would be able to jump at Tokyo.

A spokesman for the hospital said Clay is "getting along very well" in his recuperation program but there still is no decision on when he will be able to leave the hospital.

Clay underwent surgery for an incarcerated hernia last Friday night, three days before he was to have defended his heavyweight boxing championship against Sonny Liston.

Westfall First County Cage Unit To Open Season

The first of Pickaway County's High School basketball teams will go into action Friday night when Westfall hosts Paint Valley in a Scioto Valley Conference tilt.

Friday is the earliest possible date that schools fielding football teams may play basketball under rules set down by the Ohio High School Athletic Assn.

Logan Elm is the next team to roll into action. The Braves will host Centralia of Ross County on Thanksgiving Eve.

Teays Valley has a cage pre-view slated Nov. 27 when the varsity, reserve and freshman teams will be introduced to fans in the area. But the Vikings do not play their first game until Dec. 4 when they travel to Westfall.

Logan Elm will travel to Clearfork this Friday evening for a weekend scrimmage session.

THE GAME Friday is a Scioto Valley Conference tilt and Westfall Coach Larry Wilson has had only three weeks in which to mold a team at the new high school.

Paint Valley is perennially one of the better schools in the Ross County League and the Scioto Valley Conference.

Oral Crabtree, dean of Ross County coaches, will bring an experienced squad to Westfall. He has 11 seniors, four juniors and eight sophomores carried on the eligibility list.

Starting for the Mustangs will be Steve Neff, 6-2 senior center; Neil Coleman and Tom Beard, a pair of 6 foot junior forwards; Tom Hamman, a 5-9 junior and Nick Williams, a 5-8 senior at guards.

Wilson's sixth man this year will be Dannie Bowen. Ray Mowery also is slated to see much action.

Other members of the varsity team are Brad Thompson, Bruce List, Gary Liff, Bill Gibson and Willis Conley.

Paul Hoskins is coach of the reserve team at Westfall. Here is the schedule for the three county teams:

Irish Captain Awarded Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Husky Jim Carroll, captain of Notre Dame's No. 1 college football team, was named Lineman of the Week by The Associated Press today for his "magnificent" play against Michigan State.

The 225-pound guard and line-backer from Atlanta made 15 tackles and intercepted a pass as the unbeaten and untied Fighting Irish crushed the Spartans 34-7 for their eighth straight victory.

He helped stop Ed Cotton in the first quarter when Michigan State, at the time trailing by only a touchdown, gambled on a fourth and one situation on its own 49 and lost the ball on downs. Notre Dame took over and drove to its second TD.

"Carroll was magnificent," said his coach Ara Parseghian. "He played his best game even though he wasn't 100 per cent coming off a leg injury."

Carroll's 15 tackles gave him 120 total for the season which compares to his 59 in both the 1963 and 1962 campaigns. The 21-year-old senior was born in Jonesboro, Ark., and won a Heing Award from Parseghian in spring training as the "most consistent guard."

Swim Team Booster Club Is Formed

Parents of the members of the Circleville Swim Team have organized a "Parents' Booster" club, with the purpose of building a larger and more competitive swim team in the city.

Jim Shea, manager of the swim team is the club organizer. An advisory committee for the unit has been appointed. Members of the committee are: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Helwagen, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Krieger, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. Steward Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Temple.

A ways and means committee, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Guenther, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Ralston, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moon, have also been established.

The Columbian Squires, the youth organization of the Circleville Knights of Columbus gave the new Booster Club an official start, by donating to the group $15.

Booster club officials state that this money will be used to start a fund to purchase warm-up jackets and pants for the swim team.

At the present time, club officials are setting up winter practices for the team. The practices will be held at the YMCA pool in Chillicothe.

Forecaster Nods At Irish, Bucks

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Unlimited substitution is being sought by many college football coaches for next season. There may be unlimited substitution among football forecaster, too, if last week's record isn't improved upon.

It brought the season's average to .695.

Hopefully, here are this week's picks:

Notre Dame over Iowa: Notre Dame has Huarte and Iowa has Snook, two of the season's best aerial artists, but Notre Dame also has a lot of others and Iowa doesn't.

Yale over Harvard: Chuck Mercein, the Yale fullback, is one of the best in the country.

Ohio State over Michigan: The Big Ten title and the Rose Bowl invitation hinge on this result with the Buckeyes favored despite Bob Timberlake.

Oregon State over Oregon: Two of the season's surprise teams tangle with the Oregon Staters finding a way to stop Bob Berry.

Florida State over Florida: The Seminoles have the better line.

Kansas over Missouri: Annually one of the most rugged struggles of the year.

Arkansas over Texas Tech: Tech has the great Don Anderson but he won't be enough against the fierce Razorbacks from Arkansas.

Nebraska over Oklahoma: Providing the Huskers concentrate on the game and aren't dreaming about the Cotton Bowl game on New Year's day.

Southern California over

UCLA: A cross-town rivalry with a slight Rose Bowl tinge. Skipping over the others in a hurry:

Friday Night
New Mexico over Hawaii, Miami over Vanderbilt, Wake Forest over North Carolina State.

Saturday
EAST: Boston College over Detroit, Boston University over Rhode Island, Columbia over Brown, Villanova over Buffalo, Holy Cross over Connecticut, Penn State over Pittsburgh, Dartmouth over Pennsylvania, Princeton over Cornell, Rutgers over Colgate.

SOUTH: George Washington over The Citadel, Duke over North Carolina, Tennessee over Kentucky, Louisiana State over Tulane, Maryland over Virginia, Syracuse over West Virginia.

MIDWEST: Illinois over Michigan State, Cincinnati over Miami, Ohio, Oklahoma State over Kansas State, Louisville over Drake, Purdue over Indiana, Tulsa over Toledo, Wichita over North Texas State, Minnesota over Wisconsin.

SOUTHWEST: Rice over Texas Christian, Baylor over Southern Methodist.

FAR WEST: Arizona State over Idaho, Arizona over Iowa State, Wyoming over Brigham Young, California over Stanford, Air Force over Colorado, New Mexico State over Texas Western, San Jose State over Fresno State, Utah over Utah State, Washington over Washington State.

Oregon State split 10 football games last season and scored 198 points while allowing 192.

Jimmy Brown Will Charge 2,000 Times

NEW YORK (AP) — Jimmy Brown's seventh carry next Sunday against the Green Bay Packers will mark another National Football League plateau for the Cleveland Browns' great running back.

It will be Brown's 2,000th attempt to burst through an enemy line, and never before has an NFL player made that many tries. Brown, who broke the 1,000-yard mark for the sixth time last Sunday, has gained more than 10,000 yards since coming into the league eight years ago.

Brown needs just two more TDs to top the mark held by the legendary Don Hutson who scored 105 in 11 seasons.

Brown, of course, tops the NFL rushers with 1,081 yards in figures released today by the league. Chicago's Johnny Morris is the top pass receiver with 77 catches. Bart Starr of Green Bay tops the passers and Lenny Moore of Baltimore is the leading scorer with 15 touchdowns for 90 points.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP) — Businessmen are paying more heed today to what is happening than to what didn't.

What didn't happen was the production of cars and parts and materials that didn't occur because of shutdowns in auto plants.

What is happening is the continuing rise in output of other consumer durable goods and in the nondurable staples of the economy.

The loss of car output dragged the industrial production index down in October from the previous month for the first time in more than a year. But it is still 131.7 per cent of the 1957-59 average, compared with 126.1 per cent in October 1963.

And this helps businessmen shrug off the expected drop last month because of labor troubles and look to a fast recovery.

Two other statistics that looked queasy in October come under the same interpretation.

Retail sales dipped slightly, but this too was due to loss of incomes in communities where plants were shutdown because of strikes or because struck customers weren't buying just then.

Job totals also were adversely affected by the auto troubles. But businessmen note that outside this industry and its suppliers the job demand was strong. Employment advanced in service and trade and in state and local governments, and was off less than seasonally in the construction industry, where weather is a factor.

Consumers are spending more in communities untouched by the labor strife. After allowing for sales losses in autos, retail trade is topping year ago levels by the highest percentage since last March when the federal income tax cut went into effect.

Utilities are producing more despite the auto setbacks, and count on the increased demand continuing.

Industries producing equipment both for consumers and for business firms kept on climbing in October.

Capital spending by business is still rising. The October setback in production figures is deemed only temporary. It seems unlikely to change any boardroom thinking about the advisability of expanding plant and buying new equipment.

So today's tendency is to write off October's troubles as temporary and to take those continuing this month in stride. Outside the affected industries the trend is still upward.

NEW YORK (AP) — From an exciting opening shot of the soaring Winged Victory at the top of wide marble stairs to the quiet final picture of the Venus de Milo, Tuesday night's NBC special program about France's great Louvre was a delight to eye and ear.

This was no dreary tour through endless museum corridors and rooms with quick looks at famous art treasures. It was the story of the great building itself, the heart of Paris for almost 800 years, of the place where 50 kings and queens of France walked.

Charles Boyer told the story of the building and its builders as the cameras moved around, illustrating his words with pictures of the things the rulers collected — great art, crown jewels, fine sculpture and small, but significant detail in architecture.

Like "The Kremlin," an earlier NBC achievement in the same category, this was a program that should have been seen in all its rich and rewarding color.

No guided tour of the Louvre Museum would have taken a tourist to all the corners or provided such artful lighting. It was a marvelous hour.

ABC News president Elmer Lower announced Tuesday a "realignment" of its activities. One activity will be a new format and a new anchorman for its early evening news program.

The change in the early news show will move Ron Cochran out of his regular spot. Network spokesmen would not speculate on his future assignments.

It is still unofficial but the decision has been made to let CBS' "Mr. Broadway" die after Dec. 26, when he 13th show of the new series is shown. There is no word about a replacement but rumors persist that "Slattery's People," which is not doing well on Monday nights, will be moved in an effort to save the series.

Recommended tonight: "The Burden and the Glory of John F. Kennedy," CBS, 7:30-8:30 EST; "The Hanged Man," NBC, 9-11 — new feature film made for television, with Edmond O'Brien and Robert Culp; Dinah Shore Special, ABC, 9:30-10:30, with Buddy Ebsen.

Fairfield Wants To Leave League

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Fairfield High School has requested permission to withdraw from the Greater Ohio League in athletic events, it was announced Tuesday night by principal Dale Beckett. School officials said the request was presented to the league last Sunday.

The officials said they have been advised by attorneys of the Ohio Education Association that the school board cannot spend public funds to subsidize its athletic teams and therefore cannot spend public money to pay for a team doctor.

Yogi Berra Joins Ranks With Mets' Other Yanks

NEW YORK (AP) — Old Yankees never die. They just become Mets. Yogi Berra is the latest to cross over the bridge, following in the footsteps of Casey Stengel and George Weiss.

Berra will be a coach under Stengel, his old boss. If he can get into shape in spring training, Yogi will be placed on the active list as a player-coach.

This badly kept secret became a fact Tuesday when the Mets made the announcement at a news conference. Weiss, the club president, and Berra were on hand. A special telephone hookup to Glendale, Calif., was set up to bring Manager Stengel's comments to the nation.

They even had a Met uniform for Yogi. Naturally, it had No. 8 on the back.

The publicity staff thought of everything. It even had a message from Chris Cannizzaro, the Mets' catcher who was the old No. 8. He bowed out in style, waiving his rights to No. 8 in a message from San Leandro, Calif.

Berra will be the highest-paid coach in baseball. And probably in football, too. He will get a reported $40,000 from the Mets and $25,000 from the Yankees in what Weiss described as "severance pay."

Yogi had made a more fortunate deal as a special field consultant after the Yankees fired him as manager the day after the World Series.

Under the terms of the Yankee contract, Yogi could take a job elsewhere and still get the $25,000. Under those circumstances it almost pays to be fired.

"I am happy to be coming here," said Berra. "I'll do whatever Casey wants. I'm going to work out in spring training. I may play if I can. I did catch some batting practice last spring."

On the telephone hookup from California, Stengel was in his usual form.

"Very, very delighted to have you, Yogi," he said to the man he used to call his assistant manager. "I know you'll be very successful. . . I looked up your record and it took two pages. . . Don't get into many jams. I don't want you to go fight that fellow Clay."

In 18 years with the Yankees, Berra had a lifetime batting average of .285, hit more home runs than any catcher (313), and added 45 more as an outfielder for a total of 358. He played in 14 World Series and 15 All-Star games.

The Yankees made Berra a player-coach in 1963 and in 1964 he took over as manager when Ralph Houk moved up as general manager. He won the pennant but lost the series and was fired the next day.

Glenn Trains To Establish Flying Prowess

EL TORO, Calif. (AP)—Col. John Glenn Jr., the Ohio-born former astronaut, has arrived here for two weeks of training to reestablish his flying proficiency.

Glenn was grounded after a bathroom fall at his apartment in Columbus, Ohio, earlier this year. An inner ear injury left him with an illness involving frequent dizzy spells.

It also knocked him out of the race for the Democratic nomination for U. S. Senator from Ohio. Glenn is a native of New Concord, Ohio.

The first American to make an orbital space flight, Glenn plans to retire from the Marines about Jan. 1.

"I'm going to continue flying after I retire," Glenn told newsmen before leaving Houston, Tex.

Glenn announced plans last month to go into private business but said he plans to continue working for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration on a part-time basis and maintain his home near the Manned Spacecraft Center, 25 miles east of Houston.

Fire Equipment, Other Items Reviewed at Council Meet

Subjects ranging from the purchase of new fire equipment to dead trees and high weed hazards were part of the general discussion period last night in City Council.

The city's next step in the purchase of equipment for the fire department gained a share of the debate time. Seeking the answer was solon Keith Wagner who asked what action council should now take in view of the Nov. 3 passage of a one-mill equipment levy.

Safety Director Miller Fissell said proper steps should be taken immediately in preparation for purchase of a ladder-pumper vehicle and a departmental communications system, both considered priority items.

According to Solicitor Kenneth Robbins, council can move anytime to acquire bonds for purchasing purposes.

FISSELL, referring to the successful passage of the levy and the public's desire for improved firefighting facilities, said the necessary planning and drafting should start immediately for purchase of the gear. He based his comments on the considerable amount of time it will take to set up vehicle specifications, making arrangements for bonds to finance the project and the required interlude for legal advertising.

Fire Chief Bernard Wolfe reported that he has visited several cities to view and become better acquainted with various types of equipment. He emphasized that the ladder-pumper truck and radio gear should be given first consideration here.

In answer to a question by Councilman John Jenkins, the solons were informed that no applications have been made for junk yard licenses. Although an ordinance requiring this procedure was passed in April of this year, the lawmakers gave no indication last night what steps may be taken to enforce the law.

The debate on what to do about weeds that need mowing and the removal of dead
